SECOND SERIES CANADA SAVINGS BONDS

Mr. Abbott recently announced that there would be a second series of Canada Savings Bonds to be placed on sale October 14th. In his announcement Mr. Abbott pointed out that this will enable the continuance of the Payroll Savings Plan now in operation in thousands of organizations throughout the country, and will also permit its installation by other companies who recognize its value. The new Canada Savings Bonds will also be available for purchase by the general public, who have found them to be a convenient and profitable investment for personal savings. They will be available for cash or on instalments.

The Minister of Finance described the features of the second series of Canada Savings Bonds, which will be dated November 1st, 1947, and will bear interest at the rate of 2 1/2 per cent each for ten years. They may be redeemed at any time at any bank in Canada for full face value plus interest and will be registered in the owners name—affording protection against loss. Not more than $1,000. of this series may be registered in any one name.

Although the decision to offer a second series is based primarily on demonstrated public demand for these facilities, it was explained by Mr. Abbott that the Government also has in mind the value of widespread holdings of Canada Savings Bonds in the national economy. Present holdings have already rendered more than a million Canadians better able to meet personal emergencies or carry out personal plans. Such personal resources are regarded as an element of strength and stability in the nation.

RAYMOND WARDS ARE DIVIDED

The Taylor Stake Presidency called both Raymond Wards together, Sunday September 28 in the Stake House for the purpose of dividing the two wards into four. Over 700 members turned out to hear who their new Bishop would be. The meeting was entirely a business meeting. Stake President James H. Walker announced the changes and presented the names of the new Bishops.

Dividing the town into four equal parts as to member population, Main Street was given as the dividing line for the east and west halves and 1st street north, running past King Motors to John Allen's corner, one block north and again west on the gravel highway divides the town into north and south halves. Three families living on the north of the highway were included in the south west ward.

The designation of the wards is as follows: The north west quarter of the town will be known as the 1st ward, the north east quarter as the 2nd ward, the south east quarter as the 3rd and the south west quarter the fourth.

Explaining that the division was as near even as possible President Walker gave the following figures as ward populations. 1st ward—440, 2nd ward—529, 3rd ward—457, 4th ward—416.

The interesting part of the meeting was the presentation of the names of the Bishops and their counselors. Presented and sustained as the Bishopric of the 1st ward were the following: J. Orvin Hicken, Bishop, J. Harris Walker first counselor, Murray Holt second counselor and Godfrey Holmes Ward Clerk. The Second ward Bishopric was sustained as follows: William Jensen Bishop, James E. Harker first counselor, Howard A. Melchior second counselor, and Leonard D. Watson, Ward Clerk. Raymond Third Ward Bishopric consisted of the following: Rulon H. Dahl, Bishop, Robert W. Salmon first counselor, Shirley W. King second counselor and Paul Fairbanks Ward Clerk. Fourth Ward J. Golden Snow Bishop, Kenneth Stone First counselor, Bruce Galbraith second counselor and T.T. Mendenhall Ward Clerk.

Several musical numbers were rendered by the choir under the direction of Karl Gehmlich and a piano solo given by Willa Rae Erickson. Short talks were given by Satke Counselors John L. Allen and Leslie L. Palmer. The new Bishoprics were given the opportunity of saying a few words before the close of the meeting.

The division of the wards has long been under discussion in Raymond and in most quarters is considered a good move.

The new Bishoprics are busy picking ward auxiliary officers and in so doing are bringing many new faces to the fore.

As soon as ward auxiliaries are completed in their organizations we will give you the list.

ANY SUGGESTIONS?

Several times of late we have gone by the Sugar Bowl and what did we see? Just this: The Greyhound dumped the papers on the sidewalk and when the delivery boys came from school what did they do? They cut the strings on the bundles, lifted the papers from their wrappings and left. The waste paper was left to scuttle down the walk and eddy in the wind at the Broadway corner. And there they will stay until the snow covers them up—but they will reappear in the spring dirty and messy when the snow leaves. We are waiting for some one to come up with a better solution in the problem than the one the Recorder advocates—that of incinerators in the back lane, garbage containers along Main Street, and a garbage collection system run by the town, town wide.

We invite our reading public to use the columns of the Recorder for the purpose of constructive criticism. And along with the invitation we ask that all letters be signed in writing with the writers own name, whether he wants his own name published or wishes the editor to use a nom-de-plume. The Recorder would like to know what people think of things as they are.

YOUNG COUPLE WED IN EDMONTON

The I.O.O.F. Hall at Edmonton was the scene of a very pretty wedding when Alberta Elizabeth, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L.A. Mitchell of Edmonton was joined in matrimony to Sloan Alma Smith, fourth son of Mr. and Mrs. Sidney B. Smith of Raymond. Elder NE Tanner of the Latter Day Saints Church performed the ceremony. The rostrum was beautifully decorated with gladioli, asters and mums. At 5:30 p.m. the bride, very lovely in a floor length gown of white satin, with finger tip veil gathered in a crown of orange blossoms and carrying a bouquet of American Beauty roses walked down the aisle on the arm of her father, to the strains of the wedding march. She was attended by Miss Doreen Low as bridesmaid, in formal gown of nchid brocade poplin and Mrs. Alice Smith, sister in law of the groom, in gown of yellow taffeta. Both wore blue chapel veils and carried bouquets of mums, carnations and roses. The groom was escorted by his brothers Franklin and Thurston Smith. Mrs. Mitchell, mother of the bride was in a powder blue woolen suit with black accessories and pink rose corsage while the groom's mother chose a gown of black crepe trimmed with rose pink nylon and pink rose corsage.

During the signing of the register Miss Doreen Low sang "Oh Promise Me."

After the ceremony a reception was held at the Corona Hotel with forty guests present.

At the reception musical numbers At Dawning, I Love You and I'll Walk Beside You were rendered by Miss Doreen Low and Wm. Sykes sang Because.

Mr. and Mrs. Cress are making their home in Edmonton where Mr. Smith is attending University.

Among the out of town guests were the grooms parents Mr. and Mrs. S.B. Smith of Raymond.

Welling NEWS NOTES

My Week

by R. J. Deachman

It takes two to make peace. I reached that wise conclusion as a result of an ardent desire to clean up an old shelf in a vault in my office. No there's no money in it—never was but today I found an old copy of the "New Republic" with a preachment by Henry Wallace: "I stand says he, 'for one idea: that jobs and peace and freedom can be attained together and can make possible One World, prosperous and free, within our lifetime.'"

Nice isn't it? But what happens if the other fellow doesn't want to make peace and apparently that is the attitude of Russian leaders at the present time.

No nation wants war as things stand in the world today, unless possibly some of those little nations where the people are quite certain that if they did enter war other nations would do the fighting for them. But what are we going to do with the one nation in the world that has made up its mind to have everything its own way. It believes steadily and steadfastly that all other nations are wrong and reaches the conclusion that they won't be allowed to do anything unless everything is done according to their own code.

There are two courses. We may keep on with infinite patience, hoping that in time they will change their manners and their mood for something of the characteristic give-and-take which happens in all business affairs and which so often acts for the best even in what is not the best of all possible worlds.

Then there is another course: We may break away, form a new United Nations and go ahead with the things we want to do as if the dissenting party never existed.

Which course is better only time will tell and somehow in this world as so often happens history makes a mock of prophecy and things do not turn out as we think they will. Let's hope this will happen in this case.

There are times in which it seems that the only possible subject of discussion these days is the price level and what has happened to it. Certainly nothing like it has taken place after other wars, there has always been inflation, higher prices. Depressions have generally followed war but in this case we are going on doing fairly well, living rather prosperously, but the distortion of prices, aside from their mere altitude, is greater than ever before.

In some things American prices are much higher than ours. Certainly our cost of living is lower than theirs. Yet one who is interested in agriculture doesn't like to read things like this: "Good Steers, Toronto-$14.47, Chicago-$30.68; live hogs Toronto-$22, Chicago-$26." These figures are for last July.

The situation in regard to wheat prices is known to every body yet, I read an item in a Toronto paper the other day where a labor man was protesting against the high prices the Canadian farmer gets for his wheat. Poor chap did not know that his flour, even with the bonus removed, has been made from high quality wheat which is better than the American wheat but for which the Canadian farmer receives at least $1. less a bushel than his American neighbor.

There are many things we ought to do which we can't do because of our peculiar burdens of taxation. I read an item one day not long ago in regard to tree planting in the Province of Ontario. It was explained by an expert, a man who ought to know that an acre of pine planted today would be worth $1000. sixty years from now. That is only an estimate, no one knows what will happen 60 years from now, some risk is involved, it might be burned or destroyed by insects. These things are the vicissitudes of nature.

Suppose now a father leaves a forest to his son and later it passed through two or three heirs before the sixty year period has expired. The succession duties would swallow up the most of it. The government would be the real heirs. We do a lot of things, with good intentions at the time, things which ought to be done but in an era where the state swallows up the fruit of our efforts the good deed in the end may be lost, the tax collector takes all.

THE GROWTH OF INSTABILITY

"The political life of our time has shown a passion for quick returns. Since the century opened, popular attention in France, Germany, England, America has been increasingly focused on short run tangible objectives. Measures to bring specific material benefits to the nation, or to whatever groups or classes could secure control, have engrossed the public interest, raising the political temperature while they shortened the political perspective; so that along with considerable achievement there developed a growing instability. A new and dangerous temper pervaded public life as the ability to envisage policy in the larger and more permanent sense tended to disappear. The kangaroo beat both the donkey and the elephant.

From the "Liberal Tradition" by William Aylott Orton.

Every body has been poking fun at George Ralph about losing his position in the third ward (Utah) but he has about gotten everybody satisfied that a fifth ward is necessary. George says he's quite surprised at the different people who were wise to the old third ward as it was called.

MEN TO LOOK AFTER THE TOWN

We have been thinking about the men that work for the town and have come to the conclusion that two workmen are not enough. Raymond has grown considerably since forty years ago but we still have the same number of men taking care of the maintenance. A town manager does not take the place of men nor was it intended to.

We are wondering if our town constable should have to double as policeman and road maintainer operator. We are wondering how two men can properly take care of all the work about a town of this size. "Are we saving money by such a plan or should we put on more men and keep our town up and coming. Four good men could look after everything fairly well and the pay should be made attractive enough to get and hold four men.

It should keep one man busy finding jobs for the men to do, once they are hired and then maybe people would appreciate Raymond if it commenced to operate an dlook like a town.

HISTORY OF RAYMOND

By ELIZABETH KING

RAYMOND'S FIRST SUNDAY SCHOOL —L.H. Holbrook, Superintendent.

(Following is a copy of the minutes of the first Sunday School.)

"Sunday School held in the Raymond hotel, Nov. 24, 1901. Bishop J. W. Knight presiding. Singing 'Did You Think of Ray'. Opening prayer by Bro. Jos. G. Young. Singing from page 21 'Beautiful Zion. Sacrament was administered by Elders James Hawkins and L. H. Holbrook. School sang 'How Great The Wisdom and the Love.' Bishop J. W. Knight the spoke concerning a temporary organization being effected until the stake officers could be present.

Accordingly Bro L. H. Holbrook was sustained as superintendent. Bro. Holbrook expressed his desire to do his duty and then proceeded to organize the Sunday School.

He chose Bro. L. H. Baker as his first assistant, Sister Alice Bevan as Secretary, Sister Mable Stark as assistant secretary, and sister Lizzie Minns as Treasurer. All of which were sustained by the school. Next followed the organizations of the classes. The Theological to be presided over by L.H. Baker, with F.B. Rolfsen as assistant. The second intermediate with John Powellson as teacher. The primary with Sister Ester Munklestein as teacher. Bro. L. H. Baker then spoke to the school. Sister Jennie B. Knight also spoke. Then Bro. Ephraim B. Hicks and Bro. Jos. Bevan of the Bishopric addressed the school. Closing song 'Marching Home.' Benediction by Bro. M.L. Scott. Minutes taken by Jennie B. Knight.

(According to minutes of December 8, 1901: "Supt. H. S. Allen of the Sunday Schools of the Alberta Stake not being able to be with us sent his assistant Bro. William Steed who set Bro L.H. Holbrook apart as Supt of the Raymond Ward Sunday School Bro William Cooper was set apart as 1st assistant by Bishop J. W. Knight, Bro. John H. Magdill was set apart as second assistant by Bro. Eph. Hicks.)

Old records reveal that Mr. Holbrook took an active part in many of the "firsts" in Raymond. He helped build the first one roomed church donated by Jesse Knight and sons, he helped make the first benches for that first church, he helped in the building of many of the first homes and business places, he took part in the first play produced in Raymond. December 15, 1901 he was appointed chairman of the program committee for Raymond's first Christmas party with Annie Gibb, Ailsa Holbrook, Frank Rose, Alice Bevan and "Charlie" McCarty as helpers. He was also chairman of the first "New Year's Day program, Jan 1st, 1902. And more important than all others firsts he was the father of the first boy born in Raymond March 16th, 1902. Frances Bannerman was the first ward clerk and upon his resignation Mr. Holbrook took his place. Mr. Holbrook was also the first stake (eastern circuit) Superintendent of Sunday Schools. Mr. and Mrs. Holbrook recently visited Raymond and found many fine improvements had taken place since their removal back to Provo over 40 years ago. The two most pronounced observations were first, the many beautiful tall trees all over town.

Forty six years ago when the Holbrooks were here the town was treeless and barren. (At this writing hundreds of these beautiful tree branches lie all over the ground. In many places covering sidewalks completely, due to a recent over 2 foot, wet September snow storm. The falling tree branches knocked out 30 telephones and the town's electric lights and water system for a few days.

The second important observation Mr. Holbrook made was of the fine churches and beautiful spacious landscaped grounds, lawn, trees and flowers. His memory took him back to the little church which was dismantled a few years ago and which stood at the back of the beautiful First Ward and Stake House.

The Holbrooks visited their old home and many memories of the first happy precious years of their wedded life came flooding back to them. Their first two children came to them in this home. In Mrs. Holbrook's own words: "Two events that will carry on through eternity the birth of our first two children Raymond and Rachel. The little T shaped house is still standing. It will some day perish but never the memories that make it sacred to us"

It was in this same house that the writer and her missionary husband were invited to stay by the Holbrooks, their first night in Canada October 18, 1901.

Some of the early experiences of Mr. and Mrs. Holbrook were related by them recently in the Raymond Second ward church Sunday evening service.

The old timers of Raymond had but to converse with Mr. Holbrook for a moment to realize he still possessed the same keen sense of humor as he did in pioneering days. Mr. Holbrook was in the implement business then and according to a photograph taken from an old letter written to his folks in Provo, Utah. It must have been a very prosperous business. The photograph reads: "I was in the implement business just five months and sold about 20 sulky plows, 18 discs, 2 seeders, 7 wagons, 19 McCormick Mowers, 18 rakes, 25 binders, 1 steam thresher 18 horse power, 10,000 lbs binder twine and a number of smaller implements. There are now three implement companies here and next year Deering Co. will be added."

Other interesting excerpts from letters written by Mr. Holbrook to the folks at home, relate incidents and conditions as they actually were at that time:

Mr. Holbrook wrote: "We have a home dramotte company and I am learning a part in our first play.

"Ray Knight sold 300 head of steers the other day for $50. per head.

"I believe the Raymond Merc Co. is doing a larger business than any store in Provo.

"Wheat is now selling for 50 cents per bushel and oats $1. per cwt. Some of the late grain is frosted.

Our fall has been very much earlier than last year. I do not remember any frost till Nov. last year. Early grain is alright.

Our garden has helped us considerably, but we have had to much of it to tend and look after implement business. As a result my potatoes are only half as big as my neighbors.

"Our brick press is turning out very good quality bricks. In a few days we shall commence the erection of a $14,000 brick school house.

"We have a restaurant, hotel, bar, dress shop, 2 lumber companies, two banks, two black smith shops, two general stores and one drug store. From the way the grain is turning out thus far, 150,000 bushels will be a conservative estimate of Raymond's first crop planted on the sod.

"We have between 5000 and 6000 acres of grain planted. Thus far there has only been one job of oats that has yielded less than 45 bushels to the acre. The wheat will run between 25 and 30 bushels per acre.

It was mostly Red Fife and does not yield as heavy as Adogo."

It is said that the white pelican is one of the oldest birds known. Their ancestors lived among the Dinosaurs long before the Rocky Mountains were upraised.
